PRESS RELEASE

TINEXTA AT THE TRENTO FESTIVAL OF ECONOMICS

Cybersecurity is at the forefront of the debates

16 May 2025. Cybersecurity will be one of the central topics at the Festival of Economics -organized by Sole 24 Ore in Trento- thanks in part to the presence of the Tinexta Group. Representing the digital services company will be Emilio Gisondi, CEO of Tinexta Defence, a Group enterprise with a solid track record in the design, implementation, integration, and management of innovative technology, serving Defense, Space, and National Security.

"Protecting assets – emphasizes Gisondi - is a strategic objective in this complex and continuously evolving geopolitical landscape. And technological sovereignty is a fundamental tool to achieve it."

This year's festival, dedicated to "Risks and Fatal Choices", will therefore be, as highlighted by Tinexta's Chairman, Enrico Salza, "an occasion for meeting and discussion for choices that could mark historic turning points in a scenario of true digital revolution, unimaginable protectionist policies and renewed geopolitical risks."

"The topics of this edition - Gisondi continues - will give us the opportunity to share reflections that are both authoritative and necessary in order to contribute to strategic choices that can no longer be postponed and are crucial in mitigating the risks of a complex and constantly evolving geopolitical scenario."

Tinexta, led by Enrico Salza and Pier Andrea Chevallard, a development hub for innovative technologies for digitalization, will once again be present at the Festival as a supporter this year.

Tinexta's experience, as a publicly listed company, is particularly significant also due to its international projection, which today places it among the leading European operators. With three thousand employees across three business units, Tinexta is driven by a strong strategic vision aimed at supporting the growth and digital transformation of professional firms and institutions, guiding them in their digital transformation journey.
