Article 1711, second paragraph, of the civil code does not apply.
2. For the purposes of this article, a conflict of interest exists in any case where the representative or substitute:
 - a) controls, even jointly, the company or is controlled by it, even jointly, or is subject to common control with the company;
 - b) is connected to the company or exercises significant influence over it or the latter exercises significant influence over the representative;
 - c) is a member of the administrative or supervisory body of the company or of the subjects indicated in letters a) and b);
 - d) is an employee or auditor of the company or of the subjects indicated in letter a);
 - e) is the spouse, relative or in-law within the fourth degree of the subjects indicated in letters a) to c);
 - f) is linked to the company or to the subjects indicated in letters a), b), c) and e) by self-employed or subordinate employment relationships or by other financial relationships that compromise their independence.
3. The replacement of the representative with a substitute in conflict of interest is permitted only if the substitute has been indicated by the member. In this case, paragraph 1 applies. The communication obligations and the related burden of proof remain with the representative.
4. This article also applies in the case of transfer of shares by proxy.

Art. 135-undecies

(Representative appointed by a listed company)

1. Unless the by-laws provide otherwise, a listed company may, for each shareholders' meeting, designate a subject to which the shareholders may grant, by the end of the second trading session prior to the day in which the meeting is to be held in first or only call, a proxy with voting instructions relating to some or all items found on the agenda. The proxy is considered valid only for the resolutions for which voting instructions were provided.
2. The proxy may be granted in writing by way of a proxy form which is subject to Consob regulations. Shareholders will not incur in any expenses for granting a proxy. Voting instructions may be voided by the deadlines referred to in paragraph 1 above.
3. The shares for which the proxy is being granted, even partial, are computed to ensure the regular constitution of the Shareholders' Meeting. With regard to the resolutions for which voting instructions were not provided, the shareholders' shares will not be considered when calculating the majority and the share capital required to approve the resolution.
4. The party appointed to act as representative must advise as to any direct or indirect interests he/she may have in the proposed resolutions included in the agenda. The information received, and the voting instructions will remain confidential until the meeting is actually held. If any employees or staff members have access to the same information they are bound by the same confidentiality duty.
5. Pursuant to paragraph 2 above, Consob may establish situations in which the representative, who is not in any of the conditions referred to in article 135-decies, may vote differently than the voting instructions.
